Election/Restriction

Claims 5-7 and 10-16 remain in the application as withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b).

Claim Objections

Claim 8 is objected to because the claim from which it depends, claim 2, has been canceled and since claim 8 is the same as claim 3, it appears claim 8 should also have been canceled. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 and 21-23 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Tanimura (US 6,257,813). Initially, it should be recognized that applicant's prior patent was patented on 7/10/2001 which is greater than 1 year prior to the 12/2/2002 effective filing date of the instant application; thus making it proper under §102(b). Now, as Tanimura applies to the claims, the embodiment of Fig. 10 discloses a fastener comprising a torsion coil spring (110) having a fixing end (112) and being attachable to a fastening member in the axial direction (at 111). There is further disclosed a detachable stopper (120) to the outer periphery of the spring. The stopper is read as cylindrical member because it has at least some axial length, albeit a very short axial length. Alternatively, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to change the shape of the stopper member to a cylindrical shape since there is no criticality to a cylindrical shape as opposed to the "ring" shape for the intended purpose. The cylindrical member would include both internal and external cylindrical shapes and a fixing end of the spring extends beyond the stopper in the axial direction.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4, 9 and 17-20 are allowable.

Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Remarks

Applicant argues that claim 1 as amended defines over Tanimura because the stopper member disclosed in Tanimura does not constitute a cylindrical member. In response, the examiner disagrees for the reasons as set forth in the above rejection. In particular, the stopper disclosed in Tanimura can be read as a cylindrical member and the change in shape from a "ring" shaped member to a cylindrical one would have been obvious.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
